Dear Earth, upon thy bussa.

Thy cheerful birds, thy liberal flowers,

NEWPORT.

Newport, Friday, February 16, 1867.

NATIONAL UNION Republican Caucus.

The Central National Union Republican Committee having appointed Friday, February 22, 1867, as the day for holding State Conventions for the nomination of State Officers, and for the nomination of a member of Congress to represent the Eastern District of this State, it is therefore decided by the committee to hold a caucus of the Republican Party of this city at Aquidneck Hall, Saturday evening, February 16, 1867, at 7.15 o'clock. A full attendance of the party is requested for the nomination of delegates to attend said Conventions.

By order of the City Committee,

F. A. PRATT, Chairman.

Secretary of Central Committee.

EDMUND TWEEDY, Chairman.

Feb 15

To the National Union Republicans, Electors of Newport: It will be seen by reference to an accompanying document, that the undersigned have united in forming a club for a party caucus on Saturday evening next.

It is deemed advisable, at this important period in our political life, that there should be a full statement of the party, and for that there may be ample room and time for all, at Aquidneck Hall, to be present at the place of meeting.

It is the expectation of the Committee that there will be a unanimous expression of views and consequent action, and they hope to announce at the close of the business of the caucus, that the "cause of the day" will be presented to the party in brief address, if no speaker present.

Appropriate arrangements will be made to secure to every delegate a fair expression of his sentiments, and to prevent those from other parties, who should be disposed from acting in the cause.

Republican Union men of Newport, rally round your council fire.

W. M. PRATT, THOMAS F. CARR, JOHN D. DENNIS, HORACE H. FAY,	City Committee.

LOUISIANA.

The bill organizing a government for Louisiana originated with the Committee appointed to investigate the facts connected with the New Orleans riots. It passed the House under the leadership of Mr. Eliot, of Massachusetts, and was not much delayed in its passage by dilatory motions or amendments. It is believed it will pass the Senate and, if vetoed by the President, will pass over the veto by the requisite two-thirds vote. The bill provides for the appointment of some loyal citizen of Louisiana as provisional governor, whose appointment and removal must both be by the consent of the Senate, and for establishing a provisional legislative council. These officers are to govern the State until they are superseded by a governor, legislature and other State officers, to be elected on the 1st of June next. In October delegates are to be chosen to a State convention, which is to revise the State constitution so as not to permit any distinction based upon color, and so as to recognize the perpetuity of the government, and the total duty of the rebel debt, and if accepted by the electors, this constitution is to be presented to Congress with a view to the admission of the representatives of the State. In all these elections the electors are to be men without distinction of color, who have never aided the rebellion and can take the test oath; except that any person who served in the rebel army as a private soldier may be admitted as an elector by order of court, upon establishing by the evidence of Union men that after the 4th of March, 1861, he never voluntarily aided the rebellion. Of course a stringent test oath is applied to all the officers under the proposed organization; the President is directed to appoint a military commander to enforce all laws and prevent all crimes not sufficiently provided for by civil authority; and the laws passed by the provisional council or the first legislature are to be subject to the approval of Congress. The action shows the precise position occupied by Congress and the people by whom Congress is sustained on the question of reconstruction, and fore-shadows the mode in which all the remaining States now out of Congress may be dealt with. It neither recognizes the validity of the present governments, instituted by unauthorized executive action, nor admits that the seceded States have lost their character as States. It simply sets aside those government which have no warrant in law and replaces them with others formed by the express sanction and direction of legal enactment.

It is not easy to predict how far this bill is to be taken as a model and followed with reference to the other nine States, or to what extent the coin in regard to them will affect the passage of Mr. Stevens' military bill which has passed the House by a vote of 100 to 55. There is some disposition in the Senate to combine the two bills and frame one which will apply to the remaining States as well as to Louisiana. Whether they be considered separately or as one act, there is a prospect of a vote sufficiently large to overcome the veto, should it be interposed.

There appears to be little if any opportunity for constitutional objection to these bills, and if they are objected to at all, it must be on grounds of policy. But, as they secure the rights of all citizens and exclude none but leading rebels, they will meet the approbation of the loyal to all sections. While the people who have almost impatiently waited for a termination of the conflict have not been willing at any moment to compromise the demand for equal rights, they will gladly receive again the seceded States on terms of justice and equality.

A wily orator in the New York Legislature, after a lengthy effort, stopped for a drink of water. "Tis," said Bissell, "a point of order." Everybody stared, wondering what the point of order was. What is it? I think, sir, said Bissell, it is out of order for a wind-mill to go by water.

The Mexican Anarchy. The news from Mexico is important, but contradictory. Gen. Miramon is reported to have surprised and routed Juarez, and taken possession of Zacatecas. Other reports state that Miramon was himself subsequently defeated by the arrival of Liberal troops; but both rumors admit of doubt. The Liberals are said to have also gained a victory over superior numbers near the City of Mexico. Maximilian is supposed to place his hopes on the success of Miramon, as he will hardly be able to remain stationary any longer if that General is unfortunate. The rumor of the capture of Juarez and his train of troops is improbable. In the meantime the exodus of the French and Belgian troops continued. Fifteen hundred embarked on the 19th ult., and transports were awaiting others. The last of them were expected to leave during the present month. Thus far, the Imperialists seem to be making better headway without foreign assistance than they did with it, but it is very difficult to obtain reliable intelligence on which to base an opinion or even a prediction.

THE LAWLESS TEST OATH.—Justice Carter delivered the opinion of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in the lawyer-test oath case, excluding the ex-rebel Col. Magruder from practicing in the Court, but Justice Wiley, who concurred with the majority, read his views expressed in his own language. The opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States fell, he said, far short of compelling the wolves the night was made hideous by the yell and howl of the cattle, which continued until the blockade was removed and the train was once more in motion.

THE NEW YORK FIRE.—The losses by the fire which occurred in New York on Tuesday are very large. Chittenden & Co.'s stock of dry goods, amounted to $750,000 to $800,000; insured for $80,000. The insurance of Jaffey & Co., is about $200,000. Their loss will not be more than two per cent. A large part of this insurance is in Boston Companies. This firm give notice that their business will not be interrupted in consequence of the fire. The building in which the fire originated, owned by D. Appleton & Co., is a total loss. There was an insurance on it of $140,000. The loss of Messrs. Geo. Blies & Co., from water in their cellar, will not be more than $3000. Insured. The falling of the rear wall of Appleton's building, crushed in Nos. 104 and 106 Leonard street, doing much damage to its property. The tenants retained a loss of about $5000, and the building was damaged to the extent of about $10,000. The latter was insured. No. 108 Leonard street, was occupied by Charles Collins & Brothers, booksellers and stationers. Their loss amounted to $100,000, insured for $80,000.

Local Intelligence.

A "TIMEKEEPER."—A well known citizen of Newport was induced to purchase a certificate in one of the many great Prize Sales of the present day, and in due course of time was notified that his Number had drawn a "Timekeeper in a gold case," which he could have by sending forward three dollars. He complied with this and in a short time received by express a package containing a small square box, covered with gold gilt paper, within which was a cheap arrangement of a sort of sun-dial, the whole establishment costing to the manufacturer, probably, about ten cents. The cost to the purchaser was about three dollars and forty cents.

PRIM FISHES! new lot Prim Fishes slightly damaged with water, only chilling per pound, less than half price. One case small packages. Washed Fishes 8 cts package, 4 for 25 cts. Wilson's Fruit Bazaar.

GRAVE OF A GIANT.—There is on Fort Walcott a grave measuring eight feet and ten inches between the head stone and foot stone. According to the way graves are generally dug—about fourteen inches longer than the person—the person buried here may be supposed to have been about seven feet and eight inches high. We learn from the head stone that the name of the person buried there was James Hutchinson, a soldier in the army of the United States, and that he died March 8, 1821, aged 37 years.

Tomato Seed! Keyes New Prolific, 30 days earlier than anything out, no further comments needed, only 25 cts package. Wilson's Fruit Bazaar.

REAL ESTATE SALES, by Alfred Smith.—Henry W. Vernon, house and lot (75x80) on John street, to George W. Swinburne, for four thousand dollars.

Estates of Josiah S. Monroe, on Fair and Gidley streets, to William Oman, for five thousand dollars.

Barney McGowan to John West, a lot of land on Tew's Court, 40x60 feet, for one thousand dollars.

To arrive, Cranberries, new lot White Beans, Apples, Squashes. Wilson's Fruit Bazaar.

SOCIAL.—The social of the J. N. S. P. Club, at the Academy of Music, last evening, was a fine affair, and very creditable to the Committee of Arrangements for the occasion. The company was large and select and the music of the first order. The festivities, consisting of dancing and promenading, continued until about 4 o'clock this morning.

Owing to the pressure of numbers at the Free Library and Reading Room, and the want of proper accommodations, children under fifteen will not hereafter be admitted unless accompanied by their parents.

The friends of temperance will remember the lecture this evening in the Second Baptist church, by Mr. E. W. Locke, previously noticed in this paper.

PERSECUTIONS IN THE INSURANCE INTEREST.—The fire which occurred yesterday in Broad way, involving a loss of nearly one and a half million dollars, will fall heavily upon the insurance companies, coming, as it does, in the wake of a series of severe losses. The loss by that fire is so well distributed that we presume it will not seriously embarrass any of the companies, but the insurance interests cannot long withstand such a succession of disasters as it has lately met with. A number of our oldest and most substantial companies have been obliged to pass their last dividends, and some of them have been compelled to draw heavily upon their reserved funds in order to meet their obligations. It is doubtful if the history of insurance companies can furnish a parallel to the loss that has been occasioned by conflagration within the last year.—N. Y. Sun.

FALL RIVER.—From yesterday's News we gather the following items of news:

ACCIDENT.—In this house, a lad named Wm. Henry Ashwood, aged about 12 years, fell through the draw at the old building of the Lian Mill, from the upper mule room to the floor, four stories, and was very severely injured. The flesh was torn badly from one of his arms, and ribs from his left thigh, and he received an ugly cut on his head. It is a wonder that he was not instantly killed.

We understand that a number of the overseers of our mills have established a Reading Room in the Poorer building. Donations of books, pamphlets, &c., have been received from sympathizing friends, and the place arranged for comfort and improvement.

John Waldron has sold his three-story wooden building, with land, on Peasant street, directly in the rear of the noted "Stevens House," to Mrs. Green, wife of Albert S. Green.

We learn that an engine of the Old Colony and Newport road was tipped over into the water yesterday, at Taunton, where the track was pulled by the late rain. The engineer and crewman got a soaking.

EXCUSION OF SPANISH PRINCES. It is reported from Madrid that the Duke and Duchess of Montpensier have been ordered by the Queen to leave Spain before the end of the present month; and from Seville we hear that their royal highnesses are preparing to leave England. They will hereafter live at Richmond, near London. Queen Isabella has banished some of the first civilians of her kingdom, and now shows her impartiality by striking at the princes.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION—AT PROVIDENCE. WEDNESDAY, Feb. 13.

House of Representatives.

The House met at 11 o'clock, Mr. Speaker Van Zandt in the chair.

The act in relation to plots and plotting, together with the petition of John W. Murphy and others in reference to the same, was called from the House. The act was read and passed.

Mr. Birney called up the resolution in regard to the monument to be erected in memory of Rhode Island soldiers and sailors who fell in suppressing the late rebellion.

The passage of the resolution was advocated by Prof. Greene and Meany, Vinal, Van Zandt and Birney, on the ground that it was but a debt of gratitude to the brave men who had fallen in the late struggle, to erect to their memory a suitable monument; that there would never be a better time, nor could any better design be adopted than that proposed by the committee in their report and conceived by Mr. Rogers. It was opposed by Meany, Lyman, Ballou, of Smithfield, and a brief field, of Newport, on the ground that the great debt of the State, amounting to $3,600,000, and the heavy burthen of State and National taxation under which the people of the State were laboring, would not warrant the expense of $50,000 contemplated in the erection of this monument. They expressed their entire sympathy for the cause for which the soldiers and sailors fell, but deemed it more of an act of justice to the dead and to the living, that the families of the dead should be provided for, and that when the debt is removed, this monument ought to stand and should be erected.

Mr. Ayleworth, of Providence, moved to postpone the whole subject to the next session of the legislature.

A call of the House was ordered, and the motion was lost—yeas 12, nays 4.

The resolution was then put upon its passage and adopted after a call of the House by a vote of 46 to 14.

The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That a committee of—, of which Mr. E. E. Burnside shall be one, be appointed to expedite the erection of a monument in the city of Providence to the memory of the officers and men in the army and navy of the United States, from the State of Rhode Island, who fell in battle, or who died of their wounds or from sickness in the design of Mr. Randolph Rogers, of Roma, Italy, as recommended by the General Assembly at its present session.

Resolved, That twenty thousand dollars be appropriated towards defraying the cost of erecting the monument in question, which money is to be paid to the sculptor, Mr. Randolph Rogers, when he shall have complied with the stipulations of his contract, by the General Treasurer, upon the order of the committee appointed to superintend the work.
